

List of the main types of work aimed at biological stage of land reclamation

Oleksandr Gavryushenko, Dnipro State Agrarian and Economic University

Scientific Supervisor: Oleksandr Mytsyk (DSAEU)

The biological stage of land reclamation are determined by a set of agrotechnical and phytomeliorative measures. Creation a common information base for managing edaphic parameters of various technozem structures is the main prerequisite for monitoring the state of nutrient regimes of "young" soils.